TWAS ONLY A DRINK.

'Twas only a drink. Ah, who can tell
The misery and the woe,
That lurks within the luring depths
Of liquor's fiery glow?

How many a loving mother
Has seen the serpent bite
Her only son? Her darling boy?
Her own, her love, her light?

'Twas only a drink and, oh, its blight
Has darkened many a home,
Where pleasure, joy, and love's true light
Have in the past years shone.

Friends came and went, but all in vain,
To turn his steps aright;
To tear him from the awful doom
Which turns day into night.

Days, weeks and months rolled swiftly by,
Still he was liquor's prey;
And hand in hand with that first drink,
He's in the grave today.

'Twas only a drink. Ah, who can tell
The misery and the woe,
That lurks within the luring depths
Of liquor's fiery glow.

On last Saturday afternoon while the community was enjoying the blessing of a long needed rain the family of H. H. Swango was made glad by receiving in their home a new Epworth parlor organ, which is a beauty in every respect, and needless to say, everything is a smile and a song there now.

Some of our enterprising citizens have been trying to buy building lots in Hazel Green for the purpose of sending their children to school, but say they price their land too high.

Mrs. Sarah Swango has returned to Daysboro and probably will make this her future home, as there is a (Little) boy who lives close here that she seems to like equally as well as she does Mr. Burton.

Rev. Henry Adams filled his first regular appointment here Sunday and was assisted by Elder J. T. Pieratt, of Hazel Green. Both of these men are doing a noble work for the Master, and the church at this place has made a good selection in choosing Bro. Adams as their pastor for the coming year.

Rev. Samuel W. Peoples, the new pastor of the M. E. church south, has moved into the new parsonage. Bro. Peoples is undoubtedly the ablest preacher we have ever had, and we predict for him many additions to the church, militant and triumphant.

We are getting hot over here for Mon.

T. Y. Fitzpatrick for congress. Tom is making an able congressman and we are proud of him. He is certainly entitled to a second term if ever a man was.

He carried the district by a large majority over the talented John W. Langley, and he can carry it by a larger majority next time. A great many Republicans all over the district will vote for him. There is no use of talking about defeating him, for as sure as God's sun shines he will be nominated and elected. There are two men in the Tenth district against whom I will never vote, and their names are Tom Fitzpatrick and Joe M. Kendall.

I want it understood that I am for Joe Kendall against the world, but if he is not a candidate I am for Tom Fitzpatrick. Floyd county is the home of great men, and I am proud to claim it as my birthplace. Clark and Montgomery will both fall in line with Fitzpatrick at the proper time. Kinsolving will be weighed in the balance and found wanting. The horny handed sons of toil are all for the tall poplar of the Sandy Valley. Let the angelic bands of heaven begin to tune their harps of gold, and be ready to celebrate the election of our gallant Tom.

HOT SPRINGS, ARKANSAS.

Dr. Taulbee Talks Entertainingly of Its Many Interesting Features.

After a brief sojourn at Hot Springs, Ark., I am constrained by honest methods and for the benefit of my many friends to say something concerning the city and its many springs of thermal waters. When I arrived there on Nov. 18, 1897, I was unable to walk from the depot to the hotel, had eaten nothing for a week, could not sleep more than an hour at a time, even under the influence of an opiate. But after taking five or six baths and drinking the hot water for five days it seemed to me that I had found the fountain of youth, that Ponce de Leon sought in vain, and I can say of a truth that they are the only springs on earth that yield a panacea for the many ills to which human flesh is heir. I saw thousands of afflicted persons at the springs, with all manner of diseases, the majority of whom are cured in from ten days to three months, while most all the rest are greatly benefited. If anyone wants a rest from the turmoils of life there is the place to go.

Hot Springs is certainly the healthiest city in the world. The climate is mild and pleasant the year round. Besides its 72 hot springs it has 21 bath houses, and over 300 hotels, boarding and lodging houses, three daily papers, three banks, 19 churches, 15 schools, 16 lively stables, 22 drug stores, and a U. S. army and navy hospital. The government reservation covers 888 acres and the government is expending $500,000 improving it. It has a first-class system of water works, electric lights and electric street railways, together with a first-class sewerage system. The valleys of Hot Springs belong to the town, and the mountains to the government, which is spending large sums to improve their natural beauty. The most beautiful of these mountains is Hot Springs mountain, from which issue all the hot springs, and upon which is located the government hospital; where invalid soldiers can have board, lodging and baths for the small sum of 30 cents per day.

A physician who goes to Hot Springs and studies disease and the treatment in connection with the hot baths and the drinking of its life giving waters, feels that he has just completed a full course in the Kentucky school of medicine. You will find the physicians of Hot Springs perfect gentlemen, ready and willing at all times and under all circumstances to stop an important operation to shake you by the hand and instruct you in any way you may desire. The people of Hot Springs are not surpassed for hospitality, even by our own dear Kentucky people.

The expense of a trip to this great health and pleasure resort is insignificant compared with the many erroneous and extravagant reports that have been heralded through the land. A man can live as cheap there as he can in the mountains of Kentucky, if he desires, and when the blessings of Divine Providence have been tendered you and you feel yourself again and desire a few hours of real pleasure go to McLeod's, in Happy Hollow, for there you find the happy man.

HILLENMEYER EXPLAINS

Why Salt Starts a Dry Well to Running.

A month or so ago THE HERALD called attention to the fact that salt placed in a dry or failing well would produce a flow of water, having received the information from Mr. Emery James, of this place, who in turn got his knowledge of an old well digger, many years ago. The item went the rounds of the state press, and, indeed, was copied in papers all over the union. The Harrodsburg Democrat, this state, printed the item and it was tried by Prof. John Aug Williams, who found it a most complete success, and H. F. Hillenmeyer, the nurseryman, of Lexington, writing to that paper, explains the phenomenon as follows:

The story of the salt and the dry well, and the return of the water thereafter, has thoroughly gone the rounds of the Kentucky papers.

In Kentucky we have two kinds of wells. The shallow well on a par with the flowing spring, effluence of which depends on the water gathered from a higher level. When this water gives out the salt is a dismal failure.

Other wells are sunk into the static water table. The waters of these do not flow; only when removed, more takes its place. We are in the cavernous limestone, and in its lower measures are great pockets of water connected by seams and fissures. This stock of water is practically inexhaustible, but the conduits leading from one reservoir to another may be very small. When the water of the movable water table is exhausted there is of course no pressure and the least obstruction stops the flow.

The south of France has a climate and water conditions very much like ours. When their wells give out in dry times, they pour into them lime water. This and the salt, I take it, operate in exactly the same way. The crayfish is found in all subterranean waters, not too far removed from the surface. This crustacean abominates free lime, and I suspect salt, also. When the lime or salt is put into his ordinary ranching grounds he seeks new fields. His passage opens up obstructed channels and lo, the waters come. I have in mind a Frenchman, who during the recent dry time lost his water. He complacently went to the creek, seined a peck of crayfish and in a day or two his well was as full as of yore.

In cleaning out a well a Frenchman would never injure a crayfish but replace it, having faith that in its migrations it will ever keep a clear channel. The salt, the lime and the crayfish, when properly combined, insure water under certain circumstances, when times are as dry as they were last summer.

COLUMBIA CALENDAR FOR 1898.

An Exceedingly Acceptable and Useful Memorandum Pad.

For the 13th year the Columbia pad calendar makes its appearance promptly on time for 1898, and while its general style is of the same familiar character, the many bright thoughts it contains, contributed by its friends in many parts of the country, as well as abroad, are new, and will be appreciated by all who take an interest in bicycling, healthful exercise and good roads.

The 1898 Columbia pad calendar contains a convenient arrangement of dates that will prove useful to busy men, and as plenty of space is preserved for memoranda, the pad may be used as a diary and as a reminder for business appointments and obligations. It is neat in appearance, takes up but little room and is both ornamental and useful for the desk, while its stand is of such character that it may be used either upon the desk or hung upon the wall.

The moon's phases are indicated in the calendar for the benefit of those who wish to have this information. The calendar is ready for distribution and all orders for it will be filled upon the day of receipt. It can be obtained by mail prepaid for five two cent stamps by addressing the calendar department of the Pope manufacturing company, Hartford, Conn.

Late Literary News.

What would you do if war should be declared tomorrow with a European power? How would it change your home life, the lives of your brother and other relatives? How would it affect your business connections and business? What changes would it make in financial, city, state and national affairs? It is these interesting problems which a writer in the December Cosmopolitan has undertaken to sketch under the heading of "A Brief History of Our Late War With Spain," at the same time vividly describing the exciting scenes which would attend the opening of hostilities. This same number of the Cosmopolitan has an article on "The Well-dressed Woman" by Elsie de Wolfe, a contrast of the characters of Henry George and Charles A. Dana by John Brisson Walker, in another place "The Loves of Goethe" while Wells' story "The War of the Worlds," which has been so widely read, reaches its conclusion in an unexpected way.

THE HERALD.
SPENCER COOPER, : : : Editor.

HAZEL GREEN, KY.
THURSDAY, Dec. 9, 1897.

WHERE is there in Kentucky a paper which has done so much for town, county and surrounding country as THE HERALD, and received so little local patronage in return? Our merchants are very derelict in their duty in this respect, notwithstanding they have occasionally given us some advertising. If they appreciate our efforts and believe "the laborer is worthy his hire," they should give THE HERALD their support by a liberal patronage of its advertising columns. And especially so since by the use of its columns in this way they can increase their own business from 25 to 50 per cent. This is daily demonstrated by wide awake merchants the world over, and there can be no good reason why Hazel Green should prove an exception to the rule. We have always willingly and without remuneration advocated any and every enterprise for the moral and material benefit of Hazel Green, Wolfe county, and the mountains generally, and we feel that the time has come to reap some little reward of our labor. With four as good stores and two as good mills as any town can boast there is not a line in THE HERALD to apprise the general public of the fact, or invite the patronage of the people. Look at the Jackson Hustler, the Paintsville Commercial, the Clay City Chronicle, the Prestonburg News, the Messenger and the Democrat of West Liberty, and the Campton Banner, all of which are published in towns that don't begin to average with Hazel Green, and yet they are each filled with local advertising. Are you willing to be outdone by the business men of those towns in enterprise, get up-and-get and generosity? If so, shame on you for your slothfulness. What the papers above named are to the towns in which they are published THE HERALD is to Hazel Green. Aye, more by far, for it is the oldest, most popular with the people, most widely circulated, and most quoted of any publication in the mountains of Eastern Kentucky. Now, be candid, and to your own conscience answer, "Can I any longer withhold my support from my local paper, which week after week is laboring for the general welfare of the community in which I live; which in illness records the condition of my loved ones, and in event of death whispers words of sympathy to my sorrowing soul?" Read, ruminate, reflect, and then resolve never again to be remiss in your duty to "the dear old HERALD." Such a course will console your conscience and redound to your revenue.

THE leading editorial in the HAZEL GREEN HERALD announces the fact that our old friend and fellow workman, Spencer Cooper, has again assumed active management and editorial charge of that newsy little sheet, and none more heartily welcome him back and extend to him the best wishes for his ultimate recovery from that worst of besetting sins than the writer of this, who has traveled over the same thorny paths of transgression. Brace up, old boy, for we know you are a newspaper man from start to finish, and few there be who can head you off.—Dick White in Campton Banner.

Thanks, Dick, for your kind encouraging words and your exalted evidence of in the above—or any similar kindness—our ability. And, Dick, you may bet your boots that no living man appreciates a friendship such as that breathed more than does "Old Spence." But you know that and, of course, won't bet. Come over, Dick, and we'll talk over the "hot times in the old town" we have helped to make, and break bread together. The latch string is outside and ever responsive to your touch.

We learn that Hon. G. B. Swango, of Hazel Green, is a candidate for the legislature in his district in 1899. That is a long time off, but as the district is Democratic by a large majority, and as a Democrat will in all probability be selected, we know of none more capable than he to fill that position of honor.—Mountain Voice.

The above is news to us, and illustrates the old saying, "You must go from home to hear home news." Judge Swango may have the legislative "bee in his bonnet," but, though close to him, the above is the first "weens has heard uv hit."

KENTUCKY needs a new building in keeping with her wealth and merit, and we trust the coming legislature will take the initial steps to that end. What Kentucky needs is men of courage enough to act as their judgment dictates, and not men afraid of a record. The people of Kentucky are entitled to be regarded as sensible, thinking people, and their representatives should act as though the people had sense enough to appreciate what is right. Let's go to work and build a state house.—Carlisle Mercury.

We see where you are right, Green, and if there is a man in the state who ought to know about it, you are certainly that man, for you have been tugging at the public teat in that same old barn since the memory of man runneth not to the contrary.

WHAT A FOOL! It is neither a pig nor a 'possum this time. But it is the roast Editor Enloe, of the Louisville Dispatch, in its issue of Monday gave the Nashville American, which paper, it says, is owned and controlled by Republicans and gold bugs, though sailing under the free silver flag to secure patronage; that it is a traitor to the party it pretends to represent, and ever ready to rip it up the back when by so doing it can secure success to the Republicans. In short, it bemoans it for everything false, foul or filthy, and then caps the stack by saying it is not entitled to as much respect among good Democrats as the Courier-Journal, even!

CONGRESS convened on Monday, and in speaking of the probable business it will transact, the Louisville Dispatch, our esteemed free silver contemporary, quotes Hon. Benton McMillen, of Tennessee, as saying:

"The approaching session of congress will result in the passage by that body of but few important bills." He says the administration will not assist Cuba if she desires assistance, and if she does not desire it help will be forced upon her. He is of the opinion that Spain will be allowed to conquer the Cubans, if possible, and if it is seen she can not do it and the island bids fair to gain its independence, this country will at the last moment give her assistance.

EDITOR COOPER, of the HAZEL GREEN HERALD, announces that he has wound up his business on Eagle creek and returned to the editorial tripod, to make THE HERALD what it used to be, one of the very best local papers in the state. Spencer can do it if he will stop scrapping with John Barleycorn, of Eagle creek.—Sam Cassidy in Morgan County Democrat.

If the future has a fortune in store for us on the understanding that we no more combat the Eagle creek champion, then, indeed, may you put us down as a multi millionaire, for with a firm determination and the Master's help we know we can resist "Old John's" most tempting invitations, and we'll do it.

THE friends of Hon. James D. Black, of Knox county, are grooming him as an entry into the race for the Democratic nomination for attorney general.—Frankfort cor. Lexington Herald.

The "friends" of Hon. James D. Black want him to make the race for governor, and feel confident that he can "win hands down." Don't try to make him bolt the track to the governorship, or you may engender the enmity of all Eastern Kentucky.

THE people of Kentucky, and more especially the free silver Democrats, with whom he is a recognized leader, will regret to learn that Gen. P. Wat Hardin had the misfortune to lose his wife a few days since. She died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harris, of Charlottesville, Va., whom she was visiting. The funeral was held at Frankfort on Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock.

CONGRESSMAN E. E. SETTLE passed thro' yesterday to Washington for the coming session of congress.—Lexington Herald.

Is the above a mistake of the merchant-tailer or an idiom of the "intelligent compositor?" But, after all, is "conformist" an error? Congress will conform to McKinley's views, and it may, therefore, be used correctly and advisedly.

LLOYD PRATHER, of Kentucky, a $1,200 clerk in the interior department, has been promoted to a $1,400 clerkship.—Washington dispatch.

Lloyd is a Lexington boy, and a printer, by the way, with whom we have worked many a day. And we are glad to note his promotion and prosperity.

PRESIDENT MCKINLEY's mother was stricken with paralysis of the vocal organs at her home in Canton, Ohio, a few days since, and has never regained her speech. On account of her age and infirmities fears are entertained that she cannot survive the shock.

HOW TO FIND OUT.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates a diseased condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passages. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists, price fifty cents and one dollar. For a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent free by mail, mention THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD and send your full post-office address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuineness of this offer.

John Pangman, Will McGilaway and Ed Stephens, of Mt. Sterling, were registered at Mrs. Ellen Kash's boarding house this week. They left for home this morning, after a very successful hunt, in which they killed about 107 partidges.

A $1.00 Investment Brings $214.00.

MR. COOPER: When you said recently that $1.00 spent for an ad in THE HERALD would increase the selling price of the 210 acres of the McGuire farm from $50 to $100 over the last sale price, when not so advertised, I must confess I took the statement with a grain of salt, but paid my $1.00 and said nothing. The result proved that you were right. The first sale came on a beautiful day and it brought only $1,001. Saturday, Dec. 4, was a very disagreeable day, but bidding was brisk, and the same land brought $1,215, or $214 more than when not so advertised, and I think the $1 well spent. Had the day been auspicious I believe it would have brought $1,300, at least. I am now convinced that printers' ink is a prime factor in selling or buying any thing in which the people are interested, and no longer wonder at the mammoth advertisements I see in some papers. They evidently pay the advertiser a good per cent. on his investment, and should occasion again offer I shall certainly use the columns of your valuable paper.

Respectfully, etc., etc.,

THE HERALD.

LOCAL LISTINGS.

Elder Henry Adams will preach at Salersville Sunday.

Mrs. Wallin has been quite sick for the past few days.

Mr. & Mrs. Joe Rose were shopping in our town Monday.

Ed Frisby, of Frenchburg, was a visitor in Hazel Green Wednesday.

Miss Sarah Vest, of the Murphy fork, was in town shopping Monday.

Misses Rosa Little and Alice Linden, of Gilmore, were in town Monday.

Clyde, the little son of Mr. and Mrs. John Davis, is quite sick with fever.

Mrs. Lou Mize was suffering from sciatic rheumatism several days this week.

Rev. Mr. Word filled his appointment at the M. E. church, south, on Sunday.

Mrs. Lizzie Kash, of Maytown, is visiting Dr. Silas Kash and wife, of this place.

Mrs. Miles Nickell and daughter, of Daysboro, were shopping in Hazel Green Wednesday.

Several cases of chicken pox are reported among the children in and about Hazel Green.

Green Stamper and wife, of the Stamper branch, were in town Wednesday to do some shopping.

S. S. Penney, representing Chiles & Thompson, of Mt. Sterling, was a guest of Mrs. Ellen Kash Friday.

Miles Linden and sister, Miss Mahala, of above Lee City, were in town Monday, the latter to do some shopping.

Wm. C. Ferguson, representing W. A. Connelly, dry goods and notions, was a guest of the Day House Monday.

Dr. Silas Kash and wife spent Saturday night with Mrs. Kash's brother, Johnny Pieratt, and wife, of the State road.

Willie Kash, who has been teaching the school at Fincastle, in Lee county, closed his school Friday, and came home Monday.

Sam Wilson, the artist, has this week put the finishing touches on Mrs. Lou Day's furniture, and it shines like the noonday sun.

Topics for sermons at the Christian church Sunday, are: "The Mind of Christ," at 11 a. m., and "Results of Sin," at 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. Nannie Kash closed her school at the Public Square, on Wednesday last, and the patrons are much pleased with her administration.

Miss Sarah E. Vest, of the Murphy fork, was honored last week with a visit from Misses Susie Greer and Lizzie Caskey, of Grassy creek.

Miss Lizzie Swango, the bright little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arbury Swango, took dinner with Mrs. L. N. Ware, of this place Sunday.

Jonas Vansant and Thrasher Combs, circuit court clerk and sheriff elect, respectively, of Campton, were guests of the Day House Saturday.

Mrs. Rebecca Swango, of Maytown, visited Mrs. S. B. Kash Friday to have a dress made. She contemplates a visit to Louisville in the near future.

For Sale—A first-class improved White sewing machine, with all attachments and good as new; cost $45 but will be sold for $25. Apply at this office.

Hon. D. S. Godsey killed five very fine fat hogs Monday. Indeed, that is the only kind he ever kills. He believes in good eating, and most generally has it.

Robt. McLin, who has been in Louisville buying goods, and who visited his old home at Rose Hill, Va., during his absence, returned home Friday evening last.

Those who are indebted to this office are gently reminded that with us it is now a case of starve or sue, and if they don't whack up we must, in self defense, resort to the law.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Ware will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better half for a dish of the finest pork sausage the said editor ever smacked his two lips over.

STRAYED OR STOLEN—From the Cox will neighborhood about 10 days ago, a pale red cow; mottled face, 5 years old. Any information about her will be fully appreciated by Dr. J. F. Cope, Mariba.

Mrs. Emily Cockrell was seized with cramps Tuesday and suffered so that Dr. Mason Kash was called to see and prescribe for her. She was some better yesterday, but not altogether free from pain.

Lung soreness is a forerunner of serious trouble. If you feel the slightest indication, Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey will allay the inflammation and prevent further progress of the disease. It is the most efficient means of curing coughs, colds, and bronchial affections found in the annals of medicine.

John M. Rose says he is satisfied that the $1 spent in advertising the sale of the land belonging to the McGuire estate, which came off Saturday, had much, if not all, to do with the increased price over the former sale, the increase being $214. At a former sale it brought only $1,001, and at the sale Saturday it brought $1,215. Truly, it pays to advertise, but some people never find it out. This instance should convince the most skeptical on this point, and we hope our merchants will try it on.

W. W. McGuire, of West Liberty, was a guest of the Day House Tuesday night, and visited his daughters at The Home. In a conversation with the editor yesterday morning he expressed the opinion that the Lacking Valley railroad might soon be extended into Morgan county, and that possibly it would form a junction with the road from Elkatawa to the Casey coal fields, for which he was en route to Frozen to secure right of way.

Dr. Taulbee has a photograph of "Ye Arkansas Inn," at Hot Springs, Ark., located in Happy Hollow, and with it the photos of Chas. Keene, Mattoon, Ill.; Lou Miller, Enos, Oklahoma; Clarence Kuster, Lancaster, Ohio, and Dr. Taulbee, all of whom are dressed in wild west costumes. The picture is quite a novelty, and the doctor prizes it very highly on account of the three friends whose likenesses are in it portrayed.

Miss Minnie Day's school at the Cecil school house, better known as Consolation, will close tomorrow, and that the patrons will be well pleased with her tutelage is patent. She taught the same school last session and rendered such universal satisfaction that both trustees and patrons were united in selecting her as supervisor for the present term.

A lady in this town, whose name we dare not print for fear of offending, will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better half for a basket of Irish potatoes, a mammoth sweet, a squash and a fine head of cabbage. The latter was quite large but hardly so big as her heart, which has a kindly beat for all God's people.

Hat Beauty

Is largely a case of hat fitness. A pretty hat for one woman is an ugly hat for another. I study the effect of a hat on your face—on your general appearance, and make suggestions accordingly. Many times hats of my own design made specially for my customers, are more becoming, and therefore more stylish looking, than my finest pattern hats. I must close out by Jan. 10, and will offer best bargains ever seen in Hazel Green.

MRS. S. B. KASH.

Mrs. Lizzie Maxey, who was visiting her sisters, Mrs. Lou Day and Mrs. Ellen Pieratt at this place last week, is now visiting her son Roe Maxey and wife, of Pleasant Run, Morgan county. Her son and his wife came over Friday to visit Mrs. Day and others, and took their mother home with them for a stay of a month or so.

The public school at this place will close on Friday, and it is safe to say that no better school has ever been taught in the Hazel Green district. Curtis Quicksall stands as a premier among country pedagogues, and the patrons recognize this in the rapid advance his pupils have made during the present session.

The topic for the Y. P. S. C. E. next Tuesday evening is "Prayer." Miss Ava Swango is the leader. The topic for Tuesday evening, the 21st, is "Steadfastness," and the leader will be Miss Lillie Evans. The topic for Tuesday evening, the 28th, is "Christian Growth," and the leader will be Miss Mollie James.

The poem in this week's issue is from the pen of our artist, Sam Wilson, who has, from time to time, contributed verses for this paper. He writes with an easy, graceful style, inclining to the sympathetic order, and will write exclusively for THE HERALD.

Miss Maggie Kash, who is visiting her sister, Mrs. Floyd Day, of Winchester, writes that she will be home to spend Christmas. Also, that her fiancée, Eugene Atkinson, of Powell, and several young men of Winchester, will be here for the same purpose.

Chaperoned by Will Jones, of Hedges, formerly of this place, Charley Pangman, Will McGillaway and Ed Stephens, of Mt. Sterling, have been bird hunting in this section since Monday, in the forenoon of which day they bagged 19 partridges.

John Bays, while putting some lumber through a window of the academy on Friday evening last, got a finger cut on a piece of glass, so badly as to require a couple of stitches in the wound, which Dr. Silas Kash made.

In the absence of H. F. Pieratt, who, as announced in last week's paper, is a juror in the U. S. court at Covington, Mort Pieratt is the main guy at the store, and is assisted morning and evening by H. C. Quicksall.

Mrs. H. F. Pieratt, in the absence of her liege lord Henri, on Monday had several porkers butchered. Mr. Nelson Nickell superintended the work, which is equivalent to saying "it was well done, be-gosh."

John E. Wheeler and C. C. Chandler, of Lawrence county, visited at Judge Wheeler's from Saturday until Monday. The former is a cousin, and the latter a nephew to Judge Wheeler.

To the Preachers in the Mountains:

We want every preacher in the mountains to interest himself in THE HERALD and solicit subscriptions for it. The price of the paper is $1.00 a year, and to every preacher who will solicit subscriptions we will give 25 per cent., which may be applied to pay his salary or to the church fund, as he may elect. We want 1,000 new subscribers and take this method to get them, and at the same time help the Master's cause. Every preacher of every denomination is requested and authorized to act, and NOW, today, is the time to begin. Elder J. T. Pieratt has already undertaken the work, and we would like for all to begin at once.

The 75 cents due on each subscription thus taken must be sent with the name. The better way is for each preacher to receive four or more at a time, and then enclose names and bills in his letter. But where this cannot be done, send stamps for less than $1.00. Those convenient to the office can hand it in.

Write names and post-offices plainly, and address SPENCER COOPER, Hazel Green.

Free to Our Readers.

Our readers will be pleased to learn that the eminent physician and scientist, Dr. Kilmer, after years of research and study, has discovered and given to the world a most remarkable remedy, known as Swamp Root, for the cure of kidney and bladder troubles; the generous offer to send a bottle free that all may test its wonderful merits without expense, is in itself sufficient to give the public confidence and a desire to obtain it. Swamp Root has an established reputation as the most successful remedy, and is receiving the hearty endorsement of all up-to-date physicians, hospitals and homes. If our men and women readers are in need of a medicine of this kind no time should be lost in sending their name and address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., and receive a sample bottle and pamphlet, both sent absolutely free by mail. The regular sizes may be obtained at the drug stores. When writing please say you read this liberal offer in the HAZEL GREEN HERALD.

Improving Their Business.

MR. COOPER: We will answer your request as to our experience in advertising, by saying that we have had a well displayed advertisement in the HAZEL GREEN HERALD for over two years, and attribute our success, coupled with good workmanship, to that advertisement, which we know brought us much business we otherwise would not have had. Especially is this so with regard to our wagon building. Indeed, we are so well convinced of this fact that we would now as soon think of doing business without forge or anvil as without advertising, and we believe that all business men who similarly use the columns of THE HERALD will experience the same satisfactory results. Wishing you the success you deserve, we remain, Yours truly, ROSE & DAVIS, Hazel Green, Dec. 6, 1897.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

At this time of the year a cold is very easily contracted, and if let to run its course without the aid of some reliable cough medicine is liable to result in that dread disease, pneumonia. We know of no better remedy to cure a cough or cold than Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. We have used it quite extensively and it has always given entire satisfaction.—Oolagah, Ind. Ter. Chief.

This is the only remedy that is known to be a certain preventive of pneumonia. Among the many thousands who have used it for colds and influenza we have never yet learned of a single case having resulted in pneumonia. Persons who have weak lungs or have reason to fear an attack of pneumonia, should keep the remedy at hand. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by J. T. Day.

Has Invented a Bolt Cutter.

John H. Rose, of this place, has just invented and made a bolt cutter that is one of the most complete tools in that line we have ever seen. Without a drawing, which we are unable to make, it is impossible to give a complete description of this very serviceable tool. But it is made so that both blades of the knife meet simultaneously, the action of the blades being controlled by a rod working through a slot. It must be seen to be appreciated, and those who have seen it think Mr. Rose could "make his mark" and good money by having it patented. THE HERALD thinks he has a fortune within his reach if he will only grasp it, and hopes he may do so.

Mt. Sterling Sportsmen.

John Pangman and Ed Stephens, two of the hunting party from Mt. Sterling, will please accept the thanks of the editor and his better half for a rabbit and three partridges. The editor's household by common consent agreed that the birds should be eaten by our i, and the rest of us were content to munch rabbit.

Election of Masonic Officers.

Worshipful Master Pieratt requests us to say that he would like to see all the members of Mispah Lodge No. 507, F. & A. M., present on Monday, the 27th inst. The annual election of officers will be held that day, and it is important that every member be present.

Buying Cattle in the Mountains.

Ben Murphy, of the Murphy fork, and Milt Lykins, of Sandfield, passed through here Monday, en route to the mountains to buy cattle. Ben had a full supply of memorandum books to keep his accounts straight.

Christmas Advertising.

10 Cents an Inch,

Each issue, for 1 inch or 100 inches, but no ad taken for less than $1.00. To parties, however, who will take 6 inches or more for 4 consecutive weeks, I will make the rate 71-2c. per inch per issue. No better opportunity was ever offered merchants of Lexington, Winchester, or Mt. Sterling to secure the mountain trade, and a trial ad now will convince them that THE HERALD can send them a permanent patronage if they will only use its columns to invite the people. ## IT'S A MONSTER.

Largest Cannon in The World Under Construction. It is For New York Harbor.

The largest cannon in the world is now being built at the Bethlehem Iron Works in Pennsylvania for the protection of New York Harbor. It is to be placed upon a massive foundation of stone and concrete, reaching fifty feet below low water mark, and protected by a turret which will be large enough to shelter both cannon and the quarters of the crew. It will be mounted so it can be pointed in any direction, and thus have a full sweep of all the channels that approach the city. A single shot from this gun will utterly destroy any vessel afloat, and human ingenuity has not yet conceived anything that would be able to resist the force of its projectiles.

It will require 1,000 pounds of powder for every discharge, and will carry a projectile of steel weighing 2,300 pounds in almost a straight line more than sixteen miles. At that distance the projectile will have a striking energy equal to the force of a 2,500 ton ship running at 20 knots an hour.

The largest instruments of war now in existence are two cannon mounted at the mouth of the harbor of Spezia, near Genoa, where the Italian government has its naval arsenal. They weigh 120 tons, which is about the weight of the monster that was exhibited by the Krupp company at the world's fair. The new gun for New York Harbor will be six tons heavier and five feet longer and represents several important improvements which have been discovered or invented since the Italian and Krupp guns were made. There is a six inch gun in the Great Britain fortress at Gibraltar, supposed to be the strongest in the world, but is rather old fashioned. Tourists are always taken to see it, however, and enterprising little "Gibbs," as the citizens of Gibraltar are called, are usually on hand to crawl through the bore from breech to muzzle for coppers. This Gibraltar gun is said to have carried a "jubilee" shot twelve miles last summer.

The new gun being made at Bethlehem will be forty-nine feet two inches long, and at the thickest part of the breech will measure five feet five inches in diameter. It will weigh 126 tons, and the caliber will be sixteen inches. It will cost $120,000, and the carriage, pedestal and turret $300,000 more. The machinery required for handling and firing the gun will be operated by electricity, and is of the most delicate and accurate description. Although sixteen or eighteen men will be required as a crew to keep it in order, the actual loading and firing will be done with as little effort as playing a piano or a typewriter. The shot will be aimed with mathematical precision by automatic instruments.

Science has discovered methods to determine with the accuracy of a pair of apothecary's scales how far a certain amount of powder will carry a certain weight of metal, and it is only necessary for the man who fires the gun to know the weight of the charge and the projectile and the approximate distance to the target, which is ascertained by scientific observations. Then he adjusts the delicate mechanism before him, touches a button gently and away she goes with the exercise of less trouble and strength than is required to fire an old-fashioned horse pistol. Even if the shot should not happen to hit the cruiser aimed at, fourteen or fifteen miles away, it would be very apt to fall in its immediate neighborhood and would create such a commotion in the water as to swamp it if it did not miss the vessel.

The largest guns now in use are on the great battle ships of our navy. They weigh from sixty to seventy tons, and the largest bore is thirteen inches. The weight of a twelve-inch gun is about fifty tons.

The new gun was designed by Capt. E. L. Zalinski, of the retired list of the army, and is being constructed under the direction of Capt. Ira McNutt, of the ordnance corps, and Lieut. John S. Meigs, formerly of the navy. All the metal used is compressed in the fluid state by pneumatic power, and is then forged under the largest hammer in the world, which is capable of delivering a blow of 120 tons. With every step in the process of manufacture specimens of the metal are subjected to chemical analysis and other tests to determine their purity, density and flexibility. As much care is taken with the various parts of this monster in construction and the selection of material as with a microscope or the finest watch. The gun is made in nine pieces. The tub, which is the center of the gun, will weigh 22,000 pounds. This is covered by a jacket, which slips off and on, according to the necessities of the case, and weighs 90,000 pounds. The jacket is supported and strengthened by several hoops which weigh a ton or two each. The breech lock is a piece of metal about as big as a flour barrel, tempered and annealed by the most delicate processes known to science.

After hearing some friends continually praising Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, Curtis Fleck, of Anaheim, California, purchased a bottle of it for his own use and is now as enthusiastic over its wonderful work as anyone can be. The 25 and 50 cent sizes for sale by J. T. Day.

The Influence of Newspapers.

Jefferson said: "If I had to choose between government without newspapers, and newspapers without government, I should choose the latter." That was saying a great deal for newspapers, but any sane person must admit that newspapers have much to do in shaping public sentiment on all important matters. Perhaps we do not fully realize the great aid of the press in religious, political and industrial progress.

Who will claim that the world without newspapers could have attained present conditions? Can we imagine our condition if our almost innumerable publications should be suddenly and forever stopped? Total blindness of a person who had enjoyed perfect sight would fail to correctly picture our condition. Newspapers keep people in touch with each other and with every interest.

Through the press all questions are agitated until the people settle them. As this medium of communication results in moral culture and civilization, Jefferson would have preferred newspapers without government, to government without newspapers. But as "every sweet has its bitter," so the press has also its influence for evil. It has caused people to believe things which were absurdly false, and by misrepresentations caused nations to engage in bloody wars, and in this country many are being continually deceived, and vote against their own interest. Last year the money power got control of most all the leading newspapers in the United States, and their influence had much to do in defeating free silver at that time. Kentucky is a case to the point. Through the influence of the gold bug Courier-Journal and its little "yallar allies" the state had been lead into the Republican camp. But about six months ago the Louisville Dispatch, an ably edited free silver paper, was established at Louisville, and within this short period had so completely demolished the golden calf and its worshippers in Kentucky, and at the recent election the state went 17,000 for free silver Democracy.

So we have experienced the influence of newspapers for both good and evil. And as is recorded in holy writ, that "where sin abounded, did grace much more abound." And as the gold standard has through the press abounded, the proper support of the free silver press will cause bimetalism to "much more abound."—Ezel Dept. Morgan County Democrat.

Don't be persuaded into buying liniments without reputation or merit—Chamberlain's Pain Balm costs no more, and its merits have been proven by a test of many years. Such letters as the following from L. G. Bagley, Hueneme, Cal., are constantly being received: "The best remedy for pain I ever used is Chamberlain's Pain Balm, and I say so after having used it in my family for several years." It cures rheumatism, lame back, sprains and swellings. For sale by J. T. Day.

Simple Cure for Neuralgia.

George Rice, of this place, says that tea, made of the inner bark of the sugar tree—acer saccharinum—will cure the worst case of neuralgia. It should be drunk warm and as often as the pain appears. Being a very palatable drink and an easy one to make in this country where the sugar maple abounds, our readers should try it.

Neatest, Prettiest and Brightest.

We take pleasure in acknowledging that the HAZEL GREEN HERALD is one of the neatest, prettiest, brightest and best papers in Kentucky, and we don't charge a cent for saying so. It deserves success and will have it.—Beattyville Enterprise.

Considers It a Cure for Disease.

Henry Pieratt, writing from West Liberty, in November, 1887, said: "Send my HERALD on as usual. Without it I could not digest a 'darn' thing I eat; could not sleep sound unless I read it; it drives away the blues and a thousand things too tedious to mention. In fact I consider it a sure cure for consumption, fever and ague, heart disease, headache, &c., &c."

He Knows Whereof He Speaks.

"The HAZEL GREEN HERALD is putting in some good licks in behalf of turnpike building in the mountains. We hope that present law makers will give this matter the consideration it merits. The mountain section is rich in minerals and metals, and a system of roads would facilitate the development of this valuable section of the state. Stir them up, Bro. Cooper; we are for you down this way.—Lexington Observer.

"Doing a Commendable Work."

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD is devoting a great deal of space to the very commendable work of securing good roads. It wants the legislature to appropriate money to build turnpikes in the mountains.—Big Sandy News.

"One of the Ablest and Best Papers in the State."

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD is making an effort to get the state to build turnpikes in the mountains, * * and we know of no section where such roads would pay better than in the region which is the home of THE HERALD, one of the ablest and best papers in the state.—Capt. Havens, Sentinel-Democrat.

Neatly Printed and Full of News.

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD of last week was the neatest printed paper that reached this office. Besides its splendid appearance it is full of news. Mr. Cooper, the proprietor and editor, is a printer from way back, who takes pride in presenting his readers with a neatly printed paper, full of interesting reading matter.—Georgetown News-Enterprise.

"The Best Paper in Eastern Kentucky."

THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD is the best paper in Eastern Kentucky, and business men will find it very useful in commanding profitable trade.—Lexington Transcript.

"The Progressive Editor."

Col. Spencer Cooper, the able, talented and progressive editor of the best newspaper in the mountains, THE HAZEL GREEN HERALD, is in the city mixing with his old friends. If any of our Lexington merchants desire to get a good run of business from that section they should place an "ad" in THE HERALD.—Lexington Press.

The above, taken at random from the thousands of boquets tossed to THE HERALD, shows the esteem in which it is held, both at home and abroad, and if you are not now a subscriber you should enroll your name at once and pay in your dollar.
